Local Emergency Planning Committee

LEPC Members for your information:

The Shelby County Office of Preparedness still has spaces available for the upcoming Jurisdictional Threat and Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (THIRA) MGT 310 Course, set for February 24-25, 2015 at the Shelby County Emergency Operations Center from 08:00-16:00. The course is sponsored by TEEX—Texas A&M University, and the Department of Homeland Security. There is no cost or prerequisites to register for this training.

The course will assist local emergency responders, stakeholders and event personnel in identifying the critical infrastructure that may be at risk in their jurisdiction. By using the THIRA process, stakeholders will develop a strategy to allocate resources and establish mitigation and preparedness activities. THIRA-informed planning is consistent with and expands on nationally accepted emergency management standards as the basis for planning across the mission areas of prevention, protection, mitigation, response, and recovery.
